

KEITH CONFESSED

Just Before He Died on Gallows Early This Morning.

Murderer of Nora Kiefer Sang "I'm Going Home to Die No More" as He Ascended the Scaffold—Neck Broken by Fall—History of the Crime.

Michigan City, Ind., Nov. 15.—Jos. Keith, who was hanged shortly after midnight this morning, confessed just before he died to the killing of Nora Kiefer. Keith ascended the scaffold with a firm step singing "I'm Going Home to Die No More." His neck was broken by the fall.

Keith said shortly before he died that Nora Kiefer had annoyed him and fearing her much he put the girl out of the way for the sake of his wife. The prisoner was up all night with Rev. R. H. Sanders, his spiritual adviser, and shortly before midnight the men who conducted the execution entered his cell and dressed him in a new suit. Keith was then led down the corridor ten feet from his cell and mounted the platform without a sign of weakness. The robe was placed about his neck and the black cap drawn down quickly. At a signal a button was pressed which set the drop fall and Keith's body shot toward the floor, a distance of eight feet. His neck was broken and the death struggles were slight. Keith's confession is addressed to his wife.

When Keith learned that a stay of execution had been denied he sang, prayed and wept, as he had done at intervals during the last week and when he realized that his last hope was gone he sent for the Warden and dictated his confession.

Keith did not ask for the presence of any witnesses, although the law allows him to choose ten. None of his relatives visited him in his last hours, or at any time during his incarceration.

The execution of Keith was the first legal hanging in Indiana for several years. Jos. D. Keith, a wealthy farmer of Elberfeld was convicted of the murder of Nora Kiefer, aged 18 daughter of a poor neighbor on April 2, 1900. At the time of his arrest Nora Kiefer had been missing for several weeks and only two days before her body had been found in Pigeon Creek, near Evansville, 20 miles from her home. A circumstantial story was built up by the prosecution there being no direct testimony that Keith had murdered the girl. It was shown that Keith's intimacy with Nora had extended over perhaps six months and that she had made frequent demands on him for money. The gossip came to the ears of Mrs. Keith and she became intensely jealous. There were stormy scenes and it was claimed that Keith decided to make way with the girl. On April 2, 1900, he sent her a note by his son Jesse asking her to meet him that evening at a bridge not far from his farm. That afternoon Nora told her mother she was going to a spelling bee at Elberfeld. A neighbor saw her on the bridge in the evening and another neighbor testified that he saw Keith coming up the road from the bridge that night at 11 o'clock. The next day Nora Kiefer was missing. On May 23, the aged father announced that he was going to make a minute search of the neighborhood in hope of finding his daughter's body. The next day May 24 the decomposed body of a young woman was found in the creek back of Evansville, with a stone tied about the neck. It was evident that the body had not been in the creek for weeks, but had recently been thrown in from a wagon bridge. Two days later Keith was arrested and charged with the murder. When arrested he had a pair of iron knuckles in his pocket. The state claimed that Keith murdered the girl with the knuckles in the woods near the bridge, divested her body of clothing carried it quite a distance and hurled it into an abandoned well on his farm. He then burned her clothing. It was claimed that the threat of the girl's father to make an investigation caused Keith to remove the body from the well. The state claimed that Keith constructed a rude pair of grappling hooks fished the body from the well placed it in his buggy and drove 20 miles during the night to Evansville, where he threw it in the creek. Keith spent the night in Evansville and the next morning the body was found. It was weeks after Keith's arrest before it was discovered the girls slippers near where her clothing was burned and a further search revealed the grappling hooks in the well, where it was claimed they had been thrown after the body had been removed. After his arrest Keith promised to make a confession, but his lawyers sealed his lips and he has since protested his innocence.

MRS. NATION

Lectures at Marietta Under the Auspices of a Saloonkeeper and a Prize Fighter.

Marietta, O., Nov. 15.—Mrs. Carrie Nation lectured to a large audience here Thursday night under the direction of H. J. Conrath, saloon keeper, and Joe Bruner, prize fighter. In answer to a criticism on this account, Mrs. Nation remarked: "Neither the W. C. T. U. nor the church people would bring me here, but these men did and I thank God for it. I love them, despite their business and would go out smashing tonight if some of these good W. C. T. U. people will accompany me." Mrs. Nation goes from here to Topeka, Kansas.

PRESIDENT TO SEE

FOOT BALL GAME.

Philadelphia, Nov. 15.—President and probably Mrs. Roosevelt and Miss Alice Roosevelt will attend the annual foot ball game between the teams of West-Point and the Naval Academy to take place here on Franklin field Nov. 30. Mr. Roosevelt will be the first President to come to witness Army and Navy contest on the gridiron.

REVENUE TAX

As Applied to Liquor and Tobacco in The Philippines—Verkes Reverses Ruling.

Washington, Nov. 15.—Commissioner of Internal Revenue Yerkes today reversed the former ruling made by himself and held that whiskey, beer and tobacco withdrawn from consumption in the Philippines, be all subject to the internal revenue tax, thus holding that the Philippines for internal revenue purposes are domestic territory, the contention of the Government thus far having been that in the matter of customs duties, the Philippines were foreign territory. This means a heavy tax on liquor and tobacco going to the Philippines.

KENTUCKY

Has a Much Worse Experience in Smallpox Than Newark According to Official Statistics.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 15.—The State Board of Health's report on smallpox in Kentucky shows that the epidemic spread over 110 of the 119 counties of the state. There were 381 distinct outbreaks, 85 being imported from other states. Special hospitals were erected in 63 counties and municipalities. In all 11,169 cases were reported with 184 deaths, or 1.63 per cent. There were 292,280 persons vaccinated, 62 per cent of the state's population remaining unvaccinated. The disease has cost the state over $1,000,000. On October 1 there were no cases in Kentucky, but since then there have been reported from three counties.

HILL IS PRESIDENT OF BIG COMBINE

JUST FORMED TO CONTROL THE WESTERN ROADS

Hill a Moving Spirit in the Famous Northwestern Railroad War—Railroad News of the Day.

New York, Nov. 15.—James J. Hill, it was announced today, has been elected president of the Northern Securities Company, the new railroad combine, which was incorporated in New Jersey with a capital of $400,000,000. Mr. Hill was the moving spirit in the famous Northwestern railroad war. In Wall street he was looked upon as the man most likely to be selected for the position, as his road the Great Northern R. R. Co. has much larger interests than any other roads in the deal.

BURIED SAWS IN FLESH

Condemned Man's Painful Plan to Escape Hanging.

Prison Doctor Noticing the Murderer Limp Detected the Saws and Cut Them Out of His Body—Bert Ross' Desperate Effort to Escape.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 15.—A special dispatch from San Diego says: Bert Ross, heavily manacled with handcuffs and Oregon boots, condemned to die for the murder of the late Sheriff William J. Ward, of San Diego, was put on the train last evening for San Luis Obispo, where he will be resented to hang in accordance with the Supreme Court decision in his case.

He had planned otherwise, planned to make one of the most daring attempts to escape ever known in prison annals, and only by the merest chance aided by the watchfulness of Warden Aguirre, was his plan defeated. Three finely tempered steel saws, four inches in length, were the tools Ross had designed to use in his effort to cut his way to liberty, either en route to San Luis Obispo or at the jail at that place. In order to conceal them the condemned man punctured the skin of body and worked them painfully between it and the flesh, so that they would leave no sign to the casual observer.

The operation, undoubtedly agonizing, was probably begun immediately after the Supreme Court refused to interfere in his case. The suspicions of Warden Aguirre, which resulted in the discovery of these saws, were aroused about a week ago. He noticed that Ross, while taking the exercise in the prison courtyard allowed each day to the condemned, walked with a slight limp. He arrived at the conclusion that the murderer had something secreted on his person which interfered with his movements. He confided this suspicion to Prison Surgeon Calsey, but resolved to say nothing to the prisoner and to make no move to alarm him until the arrival of Sheriff Irvin to take the man to San Luis Obispo.

Sheriff Irvin arrived yesterday afternoon. Ross was taken into the room adjoining Captain Edgar's office and stripped of his clothing. Dr. Casey then examined his body minutely. Even then he was some time before he discovered the saws. As Dr. Casey cut them out and held them up for inspection Ross exclaimed, tragically:

"Doctor, you were my Waterloo."

"Who gave you these saws, Ross?" inquired Warden Aguirre.

To this question the murderer vouchsafed no reply. He had determined to shield his accomplices. He declared that he had made up his mind to escape, if he could.

"You can't blame me," he whined. "I am in desperate straits and took a desperate chance. It was the best I could do."

The crime for which Ross will pay the death penalty is the murder of Sheriff William J. Ward, of San Diego, who was bringing him to San Quentin to serve 10 years for burglary. Ross killed Ward with a water bottle while the steamer was in port at Santa Barbara, and attempted to escape by jumping into the water, although his legs were manacled. He was nearly drowned before being captured. He appealed to the Supreme Court from the death sentence imposed at San Luis Obispo, but judgment was affirmed October 25th last.

Ross will be sentenced Saturday and brought back to San Quentin for execution.

FIENDISH

TREATMENT OF AN OLD MAN AND HIS WIFE.

Tortured by Robbers Near Tip-ton, Indiana.

BOUND THEM AND REMOVED THEIR CLOTHING

THEY BURNED THEIR FLESH

Finally Mrs. Honagree Broke Away And Ran to Neighbors—The Robbers Got $50.

Tip-ton, Ind., Nov. 15.—David Honagree, an eccentric and wealthy farmer, residing southeast of here, arose early and went out to the barn before his wife had got up, and while there he was accosted by three masked men who demanded his money. He was knocked down and the robbers proceeded to drag him in the direction of his residence. Mrs. Honagree heard his cries and hastened to his assistance. A vicious New Foundland dog, let loose by her was shot by one of the robbers, who continued on their way, one of the robbers taking charge of Mrs. Honagree, who was armed with a revolver. After both had been taken to the house, Honagree produced $50 and a gold watch, which he claimed was all of his possessions but the robbers were not satisfied and made him and his wife remove their clothing, tied them to the bedstead and proceeded to torture them. After blindfolding them, the robbers burned their flesh with matches in their efforts to make them acknowledge where they kept their money. Finally Mrs. Honagree loosened herself and ran from the house to a nearby neighbor. The robbers escaped after beating the old man about the face and head until his condition is considered critical.

SAFE BLOWERS

This Time Visited a Little New Jersey Town and Got Away With $5000—Safe Wrecked.

Asbury Park, N. J., Nov. 15.—Spring Lake bank was entered by burglars during the past night. The safe and the inter safe were blown open by nitroglycerine and $5000 in cash secured. The robbery was discovered at 4 o'clock this morning. The bank is secured against loss by the Fidelity and Casualty company of New York. The bank resumed business this morning with money loaned by the Manasquan bank.

MONEY IS RAISED BY THE STUDENTS

THIRTY-EIGHT SIGNED APOLIGY TO THE FACULTY

And There is no Question Now That Boys Ordered Home Will Be Reinstated.

Granville, O., Nov. 15.—The sum of $225 demanded by the Denison university faculty from the students to cover the damages done during the Halloween depredations, was raised promptly by the students this morning and at noon Student Perkins, who had no hand in the capers, took the money to the Dean of the faculty, Prof. J. L. Gilpatrick. As demanded by the faculty, 38 of the boys implicated in the affair signed a paper apologizing for the action and agreeing not to repeat it. As the faculty had previously announced to the students that the three boys who were expelled and the three who were suspended would be reinstated if apology was made and the damage paid, it is certain now that the affair has ended.

LUGENBEAL MAY ESCAPE WITH FINE

BOY ENLISTED IN THE UNITED STATES ARMY

Said to Have Obtained Mother's Signature to Application by Misrepresentation.

A special dispatch from Columbus to the Advocate this afternoon says: A soldier's conscience caused him to desert his post in Montana last summer and work his way across nearly 3,000 miles of the American continent and give himself up at the Columbus barracks as a deserter.

The soldier's name is William Lugenebeal of Newark, Ohio. He is a minor whose mother lives in Frazersburg. The young man enlisted in the United States army but as minors are not permitted to enlist without their parent's permission, he procured an application blank and gave it to his mother convincing her it is alleged that she was merely signing a certificate of character. He enlisted and went to Columbus barracks was accepted and was assigned to Co. F Fourth cavalry stationed at Ft. Keogh, Mont. There Lugenebeal became conscience stricken and brooded over the way he had hoodwinked his mother and finally deserted and started across the continent for home. He visited Newark and then came here and surrendered. It is possible said an officer to the Advocate correspondent this afternoon that Lugenebeal will escape with a fine.

Norton Lugenebeal of this city living at 60 North Morris street this city is a brother of William.

BIG BOUT TONIGHT

Jeffries and Ruhlin Are Both in Perfect Condition.

Owing to Late Hour of the Fight Bulletins Will Probably Not be Received in Newark Giving Battle by Rounds—How Fighters Passed the Day.

San Francisco, Nov. 15.—Ruhlin's tactics in fighting Jeffries tonight will be not to rush and to avoid mixing matters as much as possible and attempt to win by straight left hand punches. Both men say today if they do not win, it will not be because they are not in perfect condition.

Fight followers are crowding into town today.

If the program is followed the men will step into the ring at 9:30 (11:30 Newark time) Jeffries will have for his seconds Delaney, Bob Armstrong, "Kid" Egan, Jack Jeffries and Dewitt Vancourt. Ruhlin will have behind him Madden, Ed Martin, Charley Goff and "Young" Gibbs. Jeffries will cross the bay this afternoon and will go to Al Smith's house for dinner. Later he will go to the hotel, where he will rest until the hour before the fight. Jeffries says he always sleeps before fighting. Frequently his trainers have to shake him to arouse him. This rest is very beneficial. He is given a brisk rub-down and goes to the ring feeling refreshed.

Asium this morning to limer up, asium this morning to limer up. Ruhlin expects to enter the ring weighing 201. Dr. Eidenmuller says:

"I found both men in perfect physical condition. I examined Jeffries right after he had been at violent exercise for over an hour. His heart was then beating at a pulsation of about 68 per minute, showing his training had been such that extreme exercise had not quickened its action beyond that of normal."

"Ruhlin, I found to be a phenomenon. His heart was beating at the rate of forty-two a minute. The organ was perfectly sound and in regard to it, I can only pronounce him a physical freak."

The men will meet in a 20 foot ring. Madden wanted a 24 foot ring.

Ruhlin says: "I am ready for the battle. I have never been in better condition than I am at present. I am faster, stronger and more confident than ever. My experience will stand me in good stead. I know Jeffries is a dangerous man, but he will find I am his master."

Jeffries says: "I will defeat Ruhlin. You can bank your money on it. He is a good man but I think I am his superior in strength, science and punching power. I will make a careful fight. If Ruhlin does not keep away the battle will not go the entire distance."

The managers today expect a $35,000 house. The fighters will get 62 1/2 per cent of which 75 per cent goes to the winner.

Jeffries is still a heavy favorite today quotations now being 10 to 13 in his favor and little money is going on.

A New York telegram today quotes Fitzsimmons as saying that Jeffries is a sure winner.

CONDITIONS

Under Which the Big Fellows Will Box Tonight.

Tonight's battle at San Francisco will be for the heavy-weight championship of the world. The men will meet under the following conditions:

1. The contest shall be under Marquis of Queensberry rules. The gloves shall not weigh more than five ounces.
2. The contest will take place at the Mechanics' pavilion under the auspices of the Twentieth Century Athletic Club. The prices of admission will range from $2 to $20.
3. The boxers are to receive 62 per cent of the gross gate receipts. They agree to divide the money as follows: Winner to receive 75 per cent and the loser 25 per cent.
4. Harry Corbett, of San Francisco, is the stakeholder and referee. He will receive a fee of $500, which is to be taken out of the gross gate receipts. His decision shall be final and all bets paid accordingly.
5. Each boxer has on deposit a forfeit in the shape of $2500 with the stakeholder to guarantee appearance at the ringside.
6. The club has posted a suitable forfeit in the shape of a $25,000 bond to guarantee good faith with the boxers and public.
7. The contest shall go 20 rounds to a decision unless there is a knockout or one man is rendered helpless before the limit expires.
8. In case death should overtake one of the contestants before the call of time all forfeits are to be withdrawn and the box office receipts and return all paid admissions.
9. All stipulations not contained in the articles of agreement or any dispute between the contestants shall be decided by the referee, Harry Corbett.

MEASUREMENTS

Of the Two Men Who Will Fight For The Title.

The comparative measurement of the two men will be of interest to those who wish to size them up. Jeffries and Ruhlin are the biggest men who have ever contested for the heavy-weight title. Their measurements follow:

Jeffries.	Ruhlin.
6ft. 1 1/2 in.	Height 6ft. 1 1/2 in.
76 3/4 in.	Reach 79 in.
17 1/2 in.	Neck 17 in.
49 in.	Chest 48 1/2 in.
36 in.	Waist 34 in.
24 1/2 in.	Thigh 23 1/2 in.
17 1/2 in.	Calf 17 in.
208	Weight 202.

SPORTING MEN

Flocking To Frisco For Tonight's Championship Battle.

San Francisco, Nov. 15.—Many Eastern people, anxious to witness the Jeffries-Ruhlin fight, are coming to this city. New York and Chicago have already large delegations on the scene, and more are arriving by each train. A telegraph order for 50 seats has been received from a party now on the way from Pittsburg. Two special cars filled with sporting men from Puget Sound cities have left Seattle, and will be joined in Portland by another carload.

The Los Angeles delegation, over 500 strong, will arrive here this evening, and delegations will be here from nearly every city and town in this state.

At the Pavilion everything will be in readiness for the event by noon today. During the afternoon the kitescope machines and the lights will be tested.

It is asserted that Jeffries now tips the scales at 208 1/2 pounds. He believes he can fight to better advantage when he weighs about 207 pounds. His trainer, Billy Delaney, is of a different opinion. He would rather have his protegee enter the ring weighing about 215 or 217 pounds, as he knows that in the course of a heated battle Jim will take off weight.

"When I fought Fitzsimmons," said Jeffries yesterday, "I weighed 207 pounds. I was as fast as chain lightning and felt as if I could fight all night. Now that I have reached within a few pounds of that weight I know and feel satisfied that I am in the best possible condition."

With a blow of his fist, while training, Jeffries burst a punching bag. It was done with one of the left swings which won for the boiler maker the glory of the world's championship.

A COSTLY JAG.

There are two United States warships, with three admirals aboard, steaming across the Pacific ocean, with their bows pointed toward one of our new and valued islands—of which we have a large assortment of two or three thousand—this one a wee speck on the map of the world called Guam. Guam is not unknown to fame. Indeed, for a little island so remote it has had a large share of prominence, and it is now one of our Penal Colonies, where the administration sends men who have been fighting against being governed without their consent.

Since an American captain entered the harbor of Pago Pago some three years ago and ran up the stars and stripes there has been something doing in Guam almost continually. For three hundred years previously the manana-loving natives had lolled in the sunshine of their perpetual summer, permitting nature to do all the agricultural work. Then one fine day came stern seadog Captain Leary, who ordered the inhabitants to wear clothes and raise hens instead of fighting cocks. Apparently Captain Leary did all there was to do in the way of exciting interest in Guam, for his successor, Captain Tilley, is reported to have taken to strong drink and to be in the enjoyment of a continual jag.

This is why the two warships are steaming across the Pacific with three of our numerous admirals aboard. These officers have been sent post haste, with others accompanying them, to hold court of inquiry to ascertain whether it is true that Captain Tilley's jag is contrary to the rules and regulations of the service, and whether during his constant exhilaration he has conducted himself as becomes an officer of the imperial navy.

This trial will stand unique in naval history because of the immense expense attached to it. The Wisconsin and Solace, the two fierce warships taking the officers to the island, will consume $60,000 worth of coal; officers and crew must be paid while in this service; detached officers must return home by passenger ships, and the total cost of the investigation, it is estimated, will run up to $150,000.

This is a big price to pay for a jag even in Pago Pago, where there is nothing for an officer and gentleman to do except to drink.

TWENTIETH CENTURY LIGHTING.

Perhaps the most startling bit of news that has recently appeared is in the London correspondence of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch telling of the wonders of the Armorial wireless electrical system.

One of the feats of this system is the lightning and extinguishing of electric lamps at a distance of two miles and a half, by pressing a button, without any wire connection.

A metal stake pushed into the ground is sufficient to connect the lamp with the lighting plant two and one-half miles away. To-morrow the distance may be stretched to ten miles or 100.

Here is more than a hint that the days of the overburdened, wire-laden pole will soon be a thing of the past. Even the conduit for wires may soon be unnecessary. Mother earth will be the universal current carrier. And her bosom will not need to be trenched and tunneled to bury wires. City pavements will be more secure. The streets will be safer. And an enormous expense will be saved. Let the inventors hasten the day of wireless lighting. It will be one of the greatest boons of an electrical age.

THE CORONATION ROBES

Rules About Display at England's Ceremonial Not Liked.

THE FAIR SEX DISAPPOINTED.

Ladies Resent Queen's Request That No Imported Costumes Be Worn. Use of Jeweled Coronets Restricted. Robes to Be Worn Over Full Court Dress—Edward's Attire.

London aristocrats are feeling gloomy over the Duke of Norfolk's supplement to the London Gazette, in which as earl marshal of England he gives detailed regulations concerning robes and coronets to be worn by peers and peeresses at the approaching coronation, writes the special correspondent of the Chicago News. The disappointment is chiefly among the fair sex. They are not to be allowed all the furbelows and tinsel which to feminine minds form the sine qua non of such important ceremonies.

To begin with, Queen Alexandra's request that all coronation gowns should be made of English goods and by English couturiers has had anything but an enthusiastic reception. Heretofore the white satin dresses and ruby velvet robes have come from France, and Dame Fashion stubbornly refuses to be satisfied with the home supply. It has just leaked out that the wives of three prominent diplomats have secretly passed in their orders to a Rue de la Paix firm, and it is more than probable that many other gowns signed by French houses will find their way into the royal cortege.

Another cause for putting lips is the regulation that peeresses must wear their robes over the usual full court dress instead of over the white satin toilets elaborately trimmed with gold lace and embroideries which were de rigueur in former days. One thing alone remains unchanged, and that is the robe. As in George IV's time, it will be of ruby velvet, the cape furled with miniver pure and bordered with rows of ermine, the number of the latter varying according to rank. The duchesses may show four rows, the marchionesses three and a half, countesses three, viscountesses two and a half, while the baronesses will have to be content with two.

An innovation, this time in gentlemen's attire, which will detract not a little from the gorgeousness and pomp of the spectacle, is the fact that peers are ordered to wear their robes over full court dress, uniforms or regimentals. At all previous coronations they were worn over white satin doublets and trunks and white silk hose. But what has caused the greatest discontent is the restriction regarding coronets. The clause stating that "no jewels or precious stones are to be set or used in the coronets, or counterfeit pearls instead of the silver balls," came like a thunderclap to many, especially to the dukes who had already had their blazing diamond circlets prepared.

It is now definitely settled that the king and queen and the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall will wear jeweled coronets. All other coronets are to be of silver gilt, caps of ruby velvet with ermine lining and having a gold tassel on top. The baron's coronet will have six silver balls on the rim, the viscount's sixteen, the earl's eight, with gold strawberry leaves between the points; the marquess' four silver balls and four gold leaves alternately and the duke's eight gold strawberry leaves.

If peeresses cannot wear jewels on their heads they evidently plan to do so on their bodies, and all London jewelers are now busy making over and resetting heirlooms. Pearls, sapphires and emeralds are to be the favorite stones. Ropes of pearls are to be worn from the shoulders as though fastening the velvet ruby robes, somewhat the same way in which Queen Alexandra wore them at the opening of parliament.

Contrary to expectation no new crown will be made for the queen. King Edward's crown is to be slightly enlarged, but it will undergo no other modification. His majesty on this eventful day will appear before his subjects in the same elaborate robes worn by his granduncle, George IV. This costume consists of three parts. The most important is the "dalmatica," or imperial robe. It is a three-cornered mantle forming an inverted "Y" and fitting very closely about the shoulders. All over it are small embroidered crosses.

Beneath it is worn the "supertunica," a sort of short pelerine having sleeves of gold cloth embroidered with gold flowers. Above both dalmatica and supertunica is worn the "armilla," which is also of gold cloth, but has a deep ermine border. It is placed on the king's shoulders by the archbishop of Westminster, who exhorts his majesty to see in this mantle "a pledge of divine grace enveloping him completely."

A McKinley Memorial in Honolulu.
A movement has been started in Honolulu for the erection of a monument to the late President McKinley, in which all the varied nationalities shall assist, writes a correspondent of the Boston Evening Transcript. It was first thought best to raise a fund toward a national monument to be erected in Washington, but now the people of Hawaii have decided to show their patriotism by building a McKinley monument upon their own hook. The Japanese and Chinese societies have voted to assist in the building of the monument and will raise their share of the necessary funds among their own people.

TOM JOHNSON AND 1904.

The Mayor Figures It Out How He Will Be Named For President.

Mayor Tom L. Johnson of Cleveland is so well pleased with the pronounced victory he won in Cuyahoga county in the recent election that he is already beginning to plan a campaign to land him in the presidential chair in 1905, says the New York Sun. It has been an open secret for some time that the mayor was not deaf to the presidential bee that all his friends have been hearing buzz. One of the men who is closest to him said that Tuesday's (Nov. 5) result could not have been better for the furtherance of his plan.

"The mayor thinks his victory in Cuyahoga county and the Democratic defeat in the state a complete vindication of himself and his issues," said this man. "He also thinks that his issues are the ones on which the Democratic party must stand in the future. He expects to be a candidate for reelection as mayor in the spring of 1903 and has no doubt of his election. Then he will be the logical Democratic candidate for governor in two years."

"Standing on his present taxation platform and conducting his own campaign, he feels that he can defeat General Dick or any other candidate the Republicans may put forward. As governor of a nominally Republican state in the interior of the Union he feels that he will be the logical candidate for the head of the Democratic ticket in 1904. He has no ambition to be senator from Ohio, as he looks on that office as the last resting place of a worn-out politician. He refused the nomination for governor at the last convention because he was satisfied that Nash could be re-elected and believed that defeat would kill him politically."

"If he lives and retains his health, he will certainly make the fight along the lines I have indicated."

OUR STRENUOUS PRESIDENT

Illustrative Story Told by a Clerk in New York Bookstore.

"For a persistent, indefatigable and positively tireless man commend me to President Roosevelt," remarked one of the clerks of an uptown bookstore in New York, whose special duty is as a searcher for elusive titles, says the New York Times. "When the president was writing his articles for the Cyclopaedia of Sport, he brought in here a list of books that he said he must have and have right away. In about a week I had managed to get together about 50 per cent of the lot and turned them over to him. He was back the next day on a still hunt for the rest. I told him some were out of print and the rest books that no dealer regularly carried in stock."

"But I must have them, every last one of them, and I must have them right away. Get a hustle on, my boy, but don't you dare miss one of them. I can't work without them." "I hunted high and low, only to be stirred up at least once a day by Mr. Roosevelt, who had in some way learned the hour he was sure to find me at the store and who never failed to be on hand to give me a good natured prod. At last I managed to get together all the books he wanted, but for a couple of weeks I had such a stirring up as I had never had before and such a one as I sincerely hope I may never have again, though Mr. Roosevelt was in the best of humor, and good nature fairly oozed from him when he was pushing me in his most strenuous fashion. He made a hustler of me for just one month for fair."

AUTOMOBILE NOVELTIES.

Interesting Features Seen in the Recent Show at New York.

Probably the lightest electric vehicle, which was also one of the novelties of the recent automobile show at Madison Square Garden, is a graceful runabout for town and light country use, says the New York Times. It weighs only 575 pounds, a distinct revelation to many who have believed that electric vehicles as a rule weighed more than machines of equal horsepower in gasoline or steam. This new electric car is equipped with the new Exide battery, consisting of twenty cells, and is capable of a run of forty miles on a single charge at a maximum speed of fourteen miles an hour. In appointments this light roadster is all that could be desired, being finished in rich black, with seat panels, shutters and running gear in red and the hubs of nickel. The same company showed another serviceable electric runabout, but made for heavier touring purposes, weighing 1,675 pounds and also equal to forty miles with one charge.

Another novelty is a new style of wheel, being in brief a wheel within a wheel. Pneumatic tires, being between the hub and the outer rim, take up the bounce and vibration, and the outside tire is of hard rubber, so there is no danger of puncture. The hub is unusually large and is fitted with interior sliding places so arranged that they slip when an obstruction is encountered, forcing the pneumatic tires to take the jar. By this method it is claimed that the rider feels no jar of any kind, no matter how rough the roads may be over which he is traveling.

Kipling's New War Story.

Rudyard Kipling's second trip to the field of war in South Africa was not undertaken altogether for his health, or, if it was, he could not resist the temptation to write after he got down there, for he has used material picked up at that time in another war story, which, it is said, is now completed, writes the London correspondent of the New York Press. He and his family are now living quietly at Rottingdean. It is said that he is not in the least disturbed by the fact that his recent poetical efforts were received with precious little enthusiasm in England.

NEW ELECTRIC DEVICE

Present Street Railway Systems May Be Revolutionized by It.

DOES AWAY WITH TROLLEYS.

Cost of Construction Is Much Less Than the Trolley or Third Rail System—The Current Is Underground—No Danger of Live Wires From It.

A new system of operating electric street railways, which promises to revolutionize the business and do away with the dangerous and unsightly trolley wires and poles, has been invented by an electrician of Milbury, Mass., says a Boston dispatch to the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. It consists of a row of square iron boxes imbedded in the street between the tracks and fed by an underground current, ingeniously cut off when not in use and the power taken up by a shoe on the car. The boxes may be placed at a distance of ten feet, if desired, and it has been illustrated that there is no danger to horse or man in crossing or coming in contact with them.

For several months experiments have been going on in the vicinity of the car barns of the Milbury and Blackstone electric road in Milbury, where a long piece of track has been laid and an equipment of iron boxes placed between the rails, surrounded with half a dozen kinds of paving and street construction materials. No one was let into the details of the affair until the other day, owing to the fact that all the patents applied for had not been granted. Scores of street railway men and electricians have thoroughly investigated the system while it has been in operation. In every test made it has proved its success, and all the railway men have been convinced upon investigation that the new system of underground power is a marvel of inventive genius and certain to revolutionize street railroading.

Instead of feeding the current through overhead wires this system feeds it through an underground wire into a cast iron box, which is covered with manganese steel, insulated therefrom. One end of this cover is slightly elevated and rounded, but when set into the pavement is in no way an impediment to travel. Within this box is a sheet of copper, imbedded in a slate backing at one end of the box. In the center of the box and extending toward the opposite end bent at right angles and inserted into a pressed steel armature rests a solid block of insulation. The top of the armature lies within an inch or so below the underside of the cover of the box.

Underneath the car a long shoe is strung, to which is attached at regular intervals, in pairs, magnets wound for 500 volts. Attached to the shoe are plates of nonmagnetic steel which are movable and used as the contact shoe and susceptible to unevenness or rise and fall necessary to always come in contact with the boxes. When the current is on, the armature in the box is drawn up in contact with the cover of the box in such a way as to make a contact and with a sufficient surface to allow the carrying of 300 or more amperes, if required, into the motor of the car.

When a car is immediately over and the shoe is in contact with the projecting part of the box, the boxes and shoe are then alive, but as soon as the car passes from over said point the armature yields and drops by gravity to its normal condition, resting upon the block of insulation.

The cost of the construction depends entirely upon the number of boxes and amount of feed wire used to the mile. The road now in operation in Milbury is constructed with a car shoe 21 feet long and with the boxes 10 feet apart. In large cities, however, it is thought that it would be more practicable to have the boxes within 5 or 6 feet and use a shoe of 8 or 10 feet. The cost of construction is much less than the trolley system or even the third rail system, and there is less danger, as the boxes through which the power is derived are alive only when a car is over them.

One of the tests made was to set the brakes on a car containing thirty passengers and then apply the power, and to the surprise of the electricians and railroad men who were present the car moved off with ease. It has been demonstrated that a car can be run up a grade of 5 per cent with 100 passengers when all the brakes are set, which is considered a remarkable test of the strength of current supplied through the boxes on the ground.

House Under the Earth.

An interesting discovery has been made on the estate of the Marquis of Zetland, in Orkney, says the London Express. Workmen came across a subterranean house about thirty-six feet long, and further explorations brought to light several signs of habitation, including the remains of ruined walls, the bones of sheep, oxen, boars, fish and whales, deer horns, stone treasures, pottery and charcoal, together with some implements fashioned from bones. The most remarkable feature in the building is that the roofing is supported by four massive pillars, each consisting of a water worn stone placed on end.

WE LEAD THE WORLD.

France to Send Her Youth to America For Technical Education.

"We realize that America now leads the van in industrial progress," said M. Bouquet, head of the technical instruction department in the ministry of commerce, the other day at Paris. "She is far ahead of England, Germany and ourselves in organization and methods of work."

"Hitherto we have been sending engineering students to Germany, England and Belgium, but the minister of commerce, M. Millerand, has come to the conclusion that the field which offers the greatest profit for their study is the United States. He has therefore resolved to concentrate his efforts there."

"A few students will still be sent to European countries to study special industries, but for general technical education they will go to the United States, where they will be able to study under competent guidance that audacity, inventive genius and marvelous organization which have lifted the industrial world of America above those of her European rivals."

"A central bureau or college will be established at Philadelphia or in Chicago, with a director and two sub-directors who will be fully acquainted with the working of the various industries under their guidance. The students will examine works specially chosen for superior methods and the newest plants."

"The step we are taking ought not to excite suspicion, as it is really homage to the United States. The students will not go to discover industrial secrets, but to finish their education, and before the scheme is put into execution we shall ask the co-operation of the American government and the leading American industrial concerns."

"The expense will be met partly by a parliamentary grant and partly by subscriptions raised among the French chambers of commerce, the industrial associations and the big industrial concerns of this country. Many encouraging promises have already been received. We hope the scheme may be carried out early next year."

LI HUNG'S SUCCESSOR.

Facts About Yuan Shi Kai and Wang Wen Shao.

Yuan Shi Kai, who succeeds Li Hung Chang as viceroy of Pechili, is the best appointment that could have been made from all China, according to Mr. Rockhill, the special commissioner of the United States at Peking. He is about forty-five years of age and came originally from the province of Hunan, where he began his public career as a military officer, says a Washington dispatch to the New York Tribune. He was made minister to Korea and for many years ably defended Chinese interests in that troubled country. As governor of Shanghai he showed surprising ability in tranquilizing that dangerous province, while his gift for diplomacy was exercised fully in preventing friction between the turbulent population of the peninsula and the Germans when the latter were steadily encroaching from their original holding at Kiaochow on the north coast. As a military man Yuan showed his ability by the organization of what is undoubtedly the best military force in China, and they were his troops that occupied Peking last September when the foreign forces were withdrawn.

Yang Wen Shao, who is made deputy viceroy of Pechili, is also a man of marked ability. Fortunately he always has been friendly to foreign ideas and is not a reactionary. He was one of the grand secretaries of state and is at present one of the two ministers appointed to form the new Chinese foreign office, which will replace the tsung li yamen. Wang is a man of affairs and was himself a member of the tsung li yamen some years ago, besides having been director of mines and railways. He has been with the imperial court ever since it fled from Peking. The records show that he always has exerted his influence in the direction of reforms.

GOLD MINE IN HIS HAIR.

Startling Discovery by Which a Colorado Man Becomes Wealthy.

James McCormick, who has recently located a placer mine in Summit county, Colo., is the son of a California pioneer and himself an argonaut with a wonderful story. While on the way east a few weeks ago McCormick went into a Leadville barber shop, and the barber says he found flour gold in his hair.

McCormick had been in the habit of washing in a small but turbulent mountain stream, and the oil of his hair acted as a natural amalgam, says the Chicago Libre Ocean. McCormick postponed his eastern trip and returned to the stream of golden sands to investigate. He located a placer and says it is worth $150,000 to $500,000.

THIS AND THAT.

A Johnstown man who was in town yesterday recalled the good joke Editor W. A. Ashbrook played on the people when he was postmaster there a few years ago. At that time it was the fashion for the Johnstown merchants to offer bargains in various lines and to cut prices right down to the bedrock. Not to be behind the times, Postmaster Ashbrook hung up a placard reading "Postage Stamps 2 for 5 cents for the next ten days."

A drummer happened to drop into the postoffice and seeing the card inquired if the Postmaster really meant what he said, and receiving assurance that the sign meant business the drummer knowing that the Government never cut rates on postage stamps no matter what number constituted the purchase, promptly said he would take $2 worth. Mr. Ashbrook proceeded to deliver the goods by handing over 80 two cent stamps and 40 one centers, which was at the rate of 3 for 5—2 twos and one one. The drummer appreciated the joke and went away to tell his friends on himself.

Mr. Lyman D. Goff, a millionaire manufacturer of Pawtucket, R. I., is to build a fine club house for boys between the ages of 5 and 15 who are in the habit of roaming the streets at night.

Newark has no millionaires and probably not one of the well-to-do residents is yet willing to make a like expenditure. Until some good citizen like Mr. Goff comes to the rescue, it might be well to try a club of another sort—the kind fathers find in the woodshed.

To many the typewriter battle between the governors of Kentucky and Indiana, Messrs. Beckham and Durbin, surpasses in interest the fist fight billed for tonight at "Frisco" between Ruhlman and Jeffries.

There is on exhibition at Frank Bader's cafe in the Doty House block an immense turnip which was raised on the farm belonging to Dr. O. P. Sook, west of this city. It measures 24 inches in circumference and weighs 5½ pounds. The Doctor thinks this specimen will break any records that have been made heretofore and he is willing to put up this turnip against all comers.

A good joke is being told on one of Newark's most prominent and skillful veterinary surgeons. One of the team of fine horses belonging to Mr. O. Bourner, the undertaker, had gone lame, and the services of the surgeon were secured. The vet. quickly responded to the call, and after making examination of the animal said that it would be necessary to apply the blister remedy. He then left and after securing a plaster returned to the stable and applied it to the horse's leg. An hour or two afterwards it was discovered that the plaster had been placed on the wrong horse, and now Mr. Bourner has two lame horses. The question is, whom is the joke on, the horse or the vet? There is no question about the location of the plaster.

The Newark boys who attend school at Granville complain that even their Granville girls will have nothing to do with them since the "scare."

It is told that two Newark solicitors of a certain newspaper while endeavoring to obtain subscriptions for the paper which they represented, happened to visit the pest house, on South Second street. The newspaper men being strangers in the city, did not know that the building was being occupied for that purpose, and after knocking at the door, waited with patience for the "lady of the house" to answer their knock. The landlady (?) came and upon being told their business, said they must be mistaken, as the building was the pesthouse and contained several cases of smallpox. It is needless to say the men did not tarry in that vicinity long, and it is said that they ran all the way to Peter Ritzer's, near the Second street bridge.

JOHN HEIPLEY

Resident of Newark for Forty-two Years Passed Away Thursday Afternoon—Well Known Citizen.

As briefly published in yesterday's Advocate, Mr. John Heiple, Sr., one of the oldest and best known residents of Newark, died at 2:45 o'clock on Thursday afternoon at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Frank Voigt, 361 North Fourth street, after an illness of some time with heart trouble. The deceased had been a resident of Newark for forty-two years, having come here from Syracuse, N. Y. For many years he worked in the old Newark Oil Works, where the Jas. E. Thomas foundry now stands, and he also worked in the old Louie Kreye tannery for some years. For 22 years he was janitor of the North Fourth street school house. When quite young he was married to Miss Mary Humler, of Syracuse, N. Y. From this union five children were born, all of whom are living. They are William, Charles, John, Frank and Mrs. Frank Voigt. For some time past the deceased has been making his home with his daughter, Mrs. Voigt. He was 78 years old, and was a man who was highly respected by all who knew him.

The funeral will take place at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Father O'Boylan will conduct the funeral services which will, owing to the Board of Health's general order, be private.

Utica Telephone Exchange.

Judge B. M. Critchfield, who has recently installed first-class telephone exchanges at Hartford and Johnstown, this county, and who has been given a franchise to build a plant at Utica, expects to begin work on the Utica exchange within six weeks and have it finished by April first.

Besides a complete system in Utica farmers' lines will be run in every direction and it is thought that 150 phones will be installed in and around Utica. The Utica exchange, like the plants at Johnstown and Croton will be connected with the Newark Independent company's lines.

NEWARK WOMAN

Charged With Breaking Up the Friend Household at Columbus—Julia Tross Named.

(Columbus Journal).

The devotion of her husband, during the past seven years to another woman has led Mrs. Relia Friend to petition for a divorce from her husband Martin J. Friend.

Mrs. Friend avers that the woman with whom her husband has become infatuated and for whose sake he has cast aside his wife, is Julia Tross, of Newark. Immediately after he became acquainted with her, the relator asserts, he became gruff and sullen and ceased showing any affection for her. He is in the employ of a bridge building company, it is averred, and remained away from his home as much as possible in order to spend the time with his paramour. He finally abandoned his wife permanently on Nov. 2, it is asserted. His wages are $150 a month, it is averred. The court is asked to allow the wife a divorce and permanent alimony.

SCHLOSSER-SWINDLE WEDDING.

Mr. Edward Schlosser, the well known South Second street shoemaker, and Miss Laura May Swindle, a well known local Christian Scientist, were married on Thursday evening. The ceremony took place at the parsonage of the St. Paul's Lutheran church, 117 North Third street, and was performed by the pastor Rev. J. C. Schindler in the presence of several intimate friends. The newly wedded couple, who will reside on Gay street, have the best wishes of all their Newark friends.

AT COLUMBUS

An Agricultural Summer School Will Be Conducted—O. S. U. To Furnish Equipment.

Washington, Nov. 15.—The Association of Experiment Stations and Agricultural Colleges, in annual convention, has decided to establish at Columbus, O., a summer school for the study of agriculture, agronomy, zoology and dairying. Dr. A. C. True, the head of the office of experiment stations of the department of agriculture, will be the director of the new institution. The Ohio state university will furnish the buildings and equipment.

Arbuckles Won.
Toledo, Nov. 15.—Judge Pugsley in the common pleas court handed down a decision in the now famous case in which a local grocer was arrested at the instance of the state pure food commissioner, on the ground that he was selling a certain brand of glazed coffee turned out by the Arbuckles company, the commissioner claiming that the glazing was a violation of the pure food laws. In a lower court the commissioner won, but Judge Pugsley reversed the decision and administered a rebuke to the lower courts. It was claimed by the Arbuckles that the sugar trust is back of the prosecution. Had the Arbuckles lost the prosecution would have been carried into other states. The judge held that the coffee was clearly within the law.

Buckeye Postoffice Looted.
Warren, O., Nov. 15.—No trace has been found of the gang of safe-crackers who robbed the postoffice at Rock Creek. The robbers blew the safe to pieces and got $100 in money, $2,500 in nonnegotiable bonds, $200 worth of stamps and a pension certificate for $92. At the P. Y. & A. depot they got a small sum of money. The thieves left Rock Creek on a handcar, but after leaving the car they can not be traced. The postoffice is located in the brick bank building, which was much damaged by the explosion.

Cleveland to Indianapolis.
Lima, O., Nov. 15.—The Pomeroy-Mandelbaum syndicate, the promoters of the Western Ohio Electric railway, building from this city and east toward Findlay, where it will connect with other lines owned by the same syndicate and make a line through to Cleveland, is building a branch west from St. Marys to Celina. This is the first section of a system of electric railways to be built to Indianapolis, thus connecting Cleveland and intermediate points with Indianapolis.

Farmer Killed in a Runaway.
Van Wert, O., Nov. 15.—Joseph L. Tossey, a wealthy farmer of Van Wert county, was killed in a runaway accident. He was assisting a neighbor to remove some household goods, when the horses became frightened and threw Mr. Tossey under the wheels.

ENGLISH GALES

Two Hundred Persons Perished and Many Vessels Were Wrecked Immense Loss of Property.

London, Nov. 15.—It is still impossible to estimate with any exactitude the total loss of life and property resulting from the protracted gale, and probably the full extent of the damage will never be known. Much wreckage of unidentified vessels is still being thrown up. Altogether it is known that of the vessels wrecked along the British coasts 34 of these have been absolute wrecks, involving, it is believed, a loss of more than 180 drowned. The Yarmouth lifeboat disaster alone leaves 14 fatherless children.

Snowbound.
Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 15.—The snow storm through central New York continues with unabated severity. Country roads are in many cases blocked, and huge drifts are piling up along the fences. Streams are rising and several places report threatened floods. In Syracuse sleighs are running even in the downtown streets. Trolley service is demoralized, but the steam railways are making their time. About 10 inches of snow has fallen. The mercury is about the freezing point.

Hotel Burned.
Warrenton, Va., Nov. 15.—The Faughar White Sulphur Springs hotel was totally destroyed by fire, together with some nearby buildings. The origin of the fire is a mystery. There was no loss of life. The building cost $75,000, and with its contents, was insured for $47,000. The only thing saved was a card table. The owner of the building is J. W. Putts of Baltimore.

QUEEN VERY ILL

But There is Believed to be no Immediate Danger—Must be Quiet Six Weeks.

Amsterdam, Nov. 15.—Queen Wilhelmina's condition today is very weak and it is necessary that she rest in the greatest quiet for the next six weeks. Proof of confidence of the royal family that the Queen is in no immediate danger is shown in the fact that Prince Consort Henry has gone shooting and that Queen Dowager Emma will leave for the Hague in a few hours.

RATHBUN IDENTIFIED

Little Rock Acquaintances Arrive at Jeffersonville.

CONFRONT THE SUSPECT IN THE JAIL.

Visiting Deputy Sheriff Authority For the Statement That the Prisoner Made Propositions to Several Women to Join Him in Insurance Swindle, Bound Over to Court.

Jeffersonville, Ind., Nov. 15.—An officer and citizen of Little Rock, Ark., positively identified Newell C. Rathbun, suspected of killing Charles Good in a hotel here by poison. Rathbun later was arraigned before Mayor Rader in the police station on the charge of murder. Rathbun pleaded not guilty, and Mayor Rader held him over to the circuit court without bond. The prisoner had no lawyer. After being arraigned he was taken back to jail. The circuit court will convene in special term Monday and a grand jury will be empaneled to consider Rathbun's case.

Deputy Sheriff Chichester, who represents Fred Schaefer, sheriff of Pulaski county, Ark., and the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, said: "Mrs. Rathbun accounted for the mistake of identification in calling Goodman 'her darling' by saying she only glanced at the body. Later, when she said it was not her husband, she said she was sorry she had not examined the body more closely."

"I know of several cases where Rathbun made to a number of women in Little Rock the same proposition. Miss Corinne Pryor says he made to her. Miss Pryor, whom Rathbun approached, is one of the most estimable women of the city. She will swear that Rathbun asked her to join him in the insurance swindle, and I shall probably introduce her as a witness when the case is tried in Jeffersonville."

Rathbun became tired of being interrogated and turned questioner himself, first asking, "How is my wife?" Deputy Chichester of Little Rock said Mrs. Rathbun was well. Rathbun expressed his pleasure. When reference was made to his wife tears showed in Rathbun's eyes. He asked Chichester to take the following message to her: "Everything looks dark for me. I will be with you some day." The prisoner could no longer restrain his feelings. He cried and brushed away the tears with his coat sleeve.

Holds the Corpse.

Little Rock, Nov. 15.—The corpse sent here as that of Newell C. Rathbun continues to repose in a vault at Oakland cemetery, subject to orders of Coroner J. M. Young. The latter states that he will surrender the body only upon sworn testimony before the coroner's jury here that the prisoner at Jeffersonville, Ind., is Newell C. Rathbun.

General Hall Retired.

Washington, Nov. 15.—Brigadier General Robert H. Hall will be placed on the retired list of the army by the operation of law on account of age. He was born in Michigan and appointed to the army from Illinois. Graduating from the military academy in July, 1860, he served with distinction throughout the civil war. Because of exceptionally meritorious services in the Philippines he was made a brigadier general in the regular army last February. With the retirement of General Hall, President Roosevelt will have an opportunity to promote two officers of the army to the grade of brigadier general. The other vacancy was occasioned by the retirement of General Merriam on the 14th instant.

Demand Statehood.

Muskogee, I. T., Nov. 15.—At the session of the Oklahoma and Indian Territory single statehood convention a resolution was adopted authorizing each territory to select 15 members the 30 to constitute a permanent executive committee to raise funds necessary for maintaining a delegation of six members, three from each territory, at Washington. The convention is opposed to the admission to statehood of Oklahoma with any part of Indian Territory tacked on and the taking into said state Indian Territory by piecemeal, but demand the admission of Oklahoma and Indian Territory as a whole, according to their present boundaries.

Building Gutted.

Chicago, Nov. 15.—Fire cleaned the 5-story stone building at 254 East Madison street, inflicting a total loss of about $50,000. The structure was occupied by the following concerns, Henry Weisbaum, cutlery; Beuhl Brothers, wax figures; Kalamazoo Corset company, Illinois Suspender company, American Electric company, novelties; G. & J. Goldberg, elastics and rubber goods. Adjoining the burned building were the printing house of Hollister Brothers and the wholesale dry goods house of Lyon Brothers. Both of these suffered heavily by water and smoke.

A Prisoner's Defense.

Oskaloosa, Kan., Nov. 15.—William H. Klusmire, the farmer who is being tried here on the charge of murdering his wife, took the stand in his own defense. Klusmire said he missed his wife one night, and going to the barn found her hanging to a rafter. To avoid the disgrace that would follow publicity, he had, he said, hid the body in the hay, buried it the next night, and concocted the story of her death in Texas.

Fifteen Years.

Clay Center, Neb., Nov. 15.—Peyton Denton, the negro who attempted to criminally assault Mrs. Dr. Hale at Edgar last summer, and who narrowly escaped lynching, was found guilty and sentenced to 15 years in prison.

Rheumatic Warped Limbs.

To suffer the most excruciating pains, rheumatism permanently by making the joints swollen and disfigured is the lot of the victim of rheumatism. Uric acid in the blood is the cause of rheumatism. If the kidneys are active, they remove the uric acid. That is their special work. If, on the other hand, the kidneys are deranged, there is sure to be uric acid in the blood and rheumatic pain through the body. No amount of liniment will ever cure rheumatism. It sometimes relieves, but cure can only be brought about by setting the kidneys right. The most effective kidney remedy known to man is Dr. A. W. Chase's kidney-Liver Pills. They cure

Want Off Saturday Night.
Appleton, Wis., Nov. 15.—Between 5,000 and 6,000 union employees of the paper mills of the Fox and Wisconsin river valleys united in a demand upon the manufacturers to close the mills from Saturday evening to Monday morning instead as at present, from Sunday morning until Monday morning. They ask that this reduction of working hours be made without a reduction of pay. The manufacturers are given until Dec. 1 to answer.

Temperance Women.

Fort Worth, Nov. 15.—With the arrival of the "white special" the last of the special trains bringing white ribboners to this city, the preliminary work for the great gathering of temperance women of the land received an added impetus, and despite the pouring rain, the nine subcommittees at the various churches were well attended. When the gavel of Mrs. M. N.
Stevens of Portland, Me., national president of the W. C. T. U., falls, she will face one of the largest conventions in the history of the W. C. T. U.
Every state and territory is ada, Mexico and Hawaii.

Receiver For Waterworks.
New Orleans, Nov. 15.—Robert Moore, a bondholder in the New Orleans waterworks company, made an application in the United States circuit court, before Judge Parlange, for a receiver for that company. The court named Frank Howard receiver.
Mr. Moore contends in his application that his action was made necessary by the decision of the state supreme court a few days ago annulling the company's charter on the grounds of oppression.

Bridge Collapsed.

Red Wing, Minn., Nov. 15.—The Chicago Great Western passenger train on the Red Wing and Zumbrota line miraculously escaped being wrecked near Goodhue. As the train was passing over a bridge the structure fell to pieces behind the cars, while in front it swayed, but stood until the train was safely over, and then collapsed.

Lumber Yard Burned.

Sturgeon, Wis., Nov. 15.—Fire cleaned out the Pankratz Lumber company's yard, which contained thousands of feet of lumber belonging to the Milwaukee Lumber company and a large quantity of shingles, the property of the company. The loss is estimated at $40,000, fully insured.

RICHARD CROKER.

With the defeat of Tammany Hall Mr. Richard Croker ceases, for a time at least and perhaps permanently, to be a factor in New York city politics.
His retirement to Wantage, his English estate, deprives New York of a most picturesque character.

MAY LOSE HER PENSION.

Dr. Mary Walker Accused of Villaging President McKinley.

Dr. Mary E. Walker, the woman suffragist who wears men's apparel, is liable to lose her pension for alleged "treasonable utterances" regarding the late President McKinley if H. Clay Evans, commissioner of pensions, has his way.

When the president's assassin was sentenced to be killed, the doctor called at the ticket office of the New York Central Railway company in Oswego and delivered a harangue to a crowd in the waiting room in which she is alleged to have used this language, says
the New York World:

"The state of New York in killing the assassin by electricity is just as great a murderer as is the assassin who killed McKinley. The latter in sending armed troops to shoot down the Filipinos in their own homes and country was a murderer."

United States Marshal McLoughlin of Binghamton went to Oswego the other day to look up the facts and obtain affidavits. In an interview Dr.
Walker said:

"What I did say I am ready to say anywhere."

In the civil war Dr. Mary Walker served as an army nurse and was discharged as a "surgeon of volunteers."
A few years ago she was granted a pension of $15 a month.

CURED OF CONSUL FEVER.

Representative to Miquelon Had All
He Wanted.

Gerald Carlton, who served as consul at St. Pierre, Miquelon, under appointment from President McKinley, was pointing out how undesirable such positions are, says the New York Times.

"It cost me $200 to get there," said he, "and when I arrived, being one of them 'literary fellows,' I hadn't any more money than I could conveniently carry around with me. There was no salary attached to the place, it being a free office. I found that my predecessor had cleaned up everything in sight."

"To add to my troubles the 'queen of the island,' a wealthy widow, attempted to marry me, and the Pook Bah, a sort of mischievous link, had a habit of being overcompunctious. I finally asked President McKinley to stop considering me a consul. Then I packed my grip and started for the land of the free and the home of the brave. No more consulships in mine, thank you! I've had that and been cured."

"EXTRA!" FIND THE VICTIM OF THE DISASTER.

Organized Labor and Trusts.

Indianapolis, Nov. 15.—At the national convention of the Knights of Labor General Master Workman Simon Burns submitted his annual report, which consisted largely of an attack on the American Federation of Labor on account of its attitude in the Amalgamated strike. The general executive committee and Secretary-Treasurer Hayes also reported. Hayes recommended that the order secure the introduction in congress of laws to control trusts. He said: "Organized labor must prepare for the giant struggle that is fast approaching, when the very existence of their organizations will be at stake."

Havana Postoffice Frauds.

Havana, Nov. 15.—The defendants in the Havana postoffice fraud cases have been granted an extension of 10 days in which to file their answers to the charges of the fiscal. The indictments in these cases sent by the fiscal to the audience implicated Esteban C.
Rathbone jointly with C. F. W. Neeley and W. H. Reeves in defrauding the government, and the fiscal recommended that each of the accused be fined $150,000, and that Rathbone be sentenced to 25 years, Neeley to 25 years and six months and Reeves to 24 years and six months' imprisonment.

American Methods in Ireland.

Chicago, Nov. 15.—With a view to introducing American methods into Ireland, Bishop John Clancy of the diocese of Elphin Ireland, arrived in Chicago on a tour of investigation of technical and manual training schools in the United States. Bishop Clancy is a member of the Irish educational commission and will look into American schools of all kinds.

A Farmer Boy's Find.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 15.—Twenty-four sticks of dynamite, a piece of fuse and explosion cap were found by a farmer's boy near the bridge of the Burlington road at Havelock, Neb. A force of detectives is at work on the case. An attempt at train wrecking and robbery is the supposed motive for placing explosives at the bridge.

Proposed Beer Trust.

Oshkosh, Wis., Nov. 15.—The local brewers state that while there has been more or less talk of a movement to unite the breweries of northern Wisconsin into a combine, it has never assumed definite shape. They also state that difficulties practically insurmountable are in the way of such a combination.

Cuban Election.

Havana Nov. 15.—The managers of General Bartolome Maso, the candidate of the Democratic party for the presidency of Cuba, claim that he will have large majorities in the provinces of Santiago, Puerto Principe and Santa Clara. The National party in Havana, which had proclaimed Senor Tomas Estrada Palma its candidate for president has split and a large faction has come out for Maso. The supporters of Senor Palma are beginning to realize the possibility of a close election. It is said here that General Maso is accredited with saying Senor Palma will have to fight hard to win.

It is estimated that there are at present about 200,000 domestic ostriches in South Africa.

Further Ruling of Court Regarding Second Street Matter—Buckeye Lake Case to Circuit Court.

In the case of the City of Newark vs. B. & O. and P. C. C. & St. L. companies, decided Thursday, being a suit for an injunction to restrain defendants from elevating their tracks at Second street, in addition to the Court finding in favor of the City, and ordering the tracks of B. & O. lowered, as indicated in decree, the Court dismissed the petition as to P.
C. C. & St. L. Co., and in addition stated that, as to Charles Vadakin, and the other employees of the railroad company who were some time ago charged with contempt in violating the preliminary order as to the injunction he did not find that they ought to be punished and did not find that they intended to violate the Court's order.

The case of the B. & O. and P. C.
C. & St. L. Ry. Companies, vs. The C. B. L. and N. T. Co., involving the right of the defendant to cross the railroad at Pine street, without first appropriating or condemning (as claimed by Plaintiffs that it should) the right to cross, will be taken to the Circuit court by the plaintiffs.

TIRED BACKS!

Backs that are tired--weary--worn out.

Backs that are lame--weak--aching. Bad Backs, sick backs, backs that ache like a toothache, that keep you awake nights with their never-ceasing pains and aches, that are the burden of the day should not be neglected. Backache is the Kidneys' cry for help; neglect its warning means many Kidney ills, Urinary troubles, Diabetes, Bright's disease. There is a certain cure,

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS!

A modern Remedy for every Kidney ill, for kidneys only, goes right to the spot. Not an experiment but a proven cure endorsed by the people you know.

NEWARK PROOF!

Chestnut Street.

J. W. Lippincott, No. 83 Chestnut street, says: "I was troubled a good deal with rheumatism and a pain right through my back more like the thrust of a knife than anything else I can compare it to. I started using Doan's Kidney Pills which I procured at Crayton's drug store. Their effect was really wonderful. They drove away the pain out of both of my sides, there was not a trace of it left. I could stoop at will, lift weight, yet feel as supple as ever I felt."

Meyers Street.

Mrs. John Goodwin, No. 9 Meyers street, says: "My back was so painfully troublesome that I could neither sit, stand or lie down with any comfort. It was the first time that I had anything wrong with my kidneys, and happening to see Doan's Kidney Pills endorsed locally, and the description of the trouble so coincided with mine that I sent to Crayton's drug store and got a box. After I had been using them a short time I felt that I was improving. My back finally got well so that I was before long able to be around again."

N. Stanberry Street.

Policeman Frank Edwards, of 350 North Stanberry street, says: "I had sharp pains across my kidneys and to a man on his feet all the time such an annoyance is very distressing. I tried to check or arrest it, but failed until I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Crayton's drug store. I followed directions closely in using them and by the time they were all taken I had no more pain in my kidneys, nor have I had since."

Webb Street.

Mr. Amos Fry, shoemaker of Webb street says: "For several years I was never free from pain, a constant sagging pain through my kidneys. It was dull and dead, so that I had to get up and move about. I had been sitting for any length of time. I took several kidney medicines, but I got no good worth speaking about, for I remained just the same. Through a notice in a local paper I commenced using Doan's Kidney Pills, which I obtained at Crayton's drug store. They did the work they promised for they completely took all that miserable pain out of my back."

Spencer Street.

Mrs. George Graff of 25 Spencer street, says: "I had a terrible bad back which successfully resisted all efforts in the way of medicines and porous plasters to relieve it. It was just across the loins where the greatest strain falls, so that I could not get up when I was down. I awakened in the morning scarcely able to shift my body. As I moved about at my household work I was often in actual torture. For three months I suffered all the time until one day a neighbor gave me a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills. I took them and the benefit was so apparent I sent down to Crayton's drug store and procured a box. Before very long I discarded the plasters, the kidney secretions looked clear and natural and I had not a pain in my head and back."

Get what you ask for. Get DOAN'S. Don't accept something "just as good." Most druggists sell Doan's Kidney Pills and will give you what you call for. Some may endeavor to substitute an article they make more profit on. Insist on having the genuine. Price 50 cents. Manufactured by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

It is said that Canada is soon to have her own mint and that the gold coins will be called "beavers." The value the "beaver" will correspond to our eagle, $10; double "beaver," $20, and half "beaver," $5.

Even at this time of year when vegetation is dead we see lots of blooming idiots.

STATE NEWS

HAPPENINGS IN ALL PARTS OF OHIO.

All Sorts of Buckeye News Items Boiled So that Only Real Facts Remain.

Columbus—When George T. Bias, a life prisoner at the Ohio Penitentiary from Indian Territory, presented himself to the prison doctors affected with a severe case of nausea and vomiting, they found that he was a veritable human ogar. He had completely wrapped his body with tobacco leaves that he had stolen. The leaves obstructed the pores of his skin and acted as an emetic "taken outwardly." The doctors unwrapped the man-ogar and Bias is on the road to recovery.

Findlay—"Take off that coat or I will call an officer," was the greeting of a stranger to Mayor Charles Watson whom he met on the street. The Mayor summoned all his dignity and asked the stranger the wherefore of his suddenness. Explanations followed and showed that the Mayor had taken the wrong coat from a barber shop, leaving his own there instead. "And think of it," said the Mayor afterward, "I bound a fellow over to the grand jury Thursday for stealing a pair of trousers."

Massillon—Muskrats have burrowed through the berm bank of the Ohio Canal, and Captain Moore, of the State Board, is afraid there will be disastrous breaks. He has notified the Superintendent that the Legislature must provide means for killing off the rats or it will have no canal in a year or two.

East Liverpool—Charles Twyford, aged 26, was crushed under the falling roof of a shanty on which was a pile of lumber. His spine was broken, death resulting.

Salem—Henry Korameister, aged 45, single, was found hanging to a rafter in the house where he lived alone, eight miles west of Salem.

Shelby—Riblet Snyder, Secretary of the Birch Plow Works of Crestline, was instantly killed by jumping from the caboose of a freight train.

Dennison—The home of Chas. Pety was burned. It is supposed that the fire was caused by a gas explosion.

Findlay—Misses Dora and Grace Garling were seriously injured by being thrown from a buggy in front of a trolley car.

Bellville—The Logan Natural Gas company has leased every foot of farmland in Jefferson township and will prospect for gas.

Columbus—Adjutant General Geyer has set November 21 as the day of examination for appointive and elective officers.

Findlay—Initial steps taken here to organize a servant girls' union. Organizer McNeer says that the union will be organized this week with 50 chartered members.

Marysville—Smallpox has broken out at Magnetic Springs and the citizens are much alarmed. There are a number of well defined cases and 16 houses have been quarantined.

Zanesville—The strike at the Brown Works has not been settled, and the Blacksmiths' Union has not deserted the strikers, who are maintaining a solid front.

Findlay—The suit of Mrs. Ella Kendall against the Findlay, Ft. Wayne and Western railroad was won by the plaintiff, the Court ordering the company to pay her $4,700. She sued for $10,000 for injuries received in a wreck.

Glouster—In the ouster proceedings against the Corning Natural Gas company Judge Wood has granted an order restraining the gas company from shutting off its product from the Corning consumers.

JAS. H. FARRELL, A PROMINENT CHICAGO MAN.

And the Oldest Member of the Illinois House of Representatives Makes a Recommendation.

James H. Farrell of Chicago is one of the best known figures in the Democratic politics of that city. For years he has been marshal of the famous Cook County Democracy Marching Club, which has participated in Democratic campaigns in behalf of the states of the union, and which went to New York especially to assist in the election of Mayor Van Wyck.

Capt. Farrell is the oldest member of the Illinois House of Representatives in point of service, having been a member continuously since 1887. His constituents have elected him eight times. He has been a leader in that body from the beginning of his career and is one of the best known figures in Illinois politics.

Capt. Farrell is 59 years of age and one of the best preserved men for his years in the Illinois Legislature, despite his arduous and constant duties in that body. Mr. Farrell is engaged in the real estate business in Chicago. Under date of March 14, 1901, he writes as follows:

Springfield, Ill.

Mrs. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Gentlemen:—I have found after a thorough trial that your Syrup Pepsin is a most excellent and successful remedy for Dyspepsia, Bilioousness and Sick Headache. It is most effective and pleasing in all cases of this nature, and it is with pleasure I recommend it to others.

Respectfully Yours,

JAS. H. FARRELL.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and Herb Laxative Compound is guaranteed to cure all forms of stomach trouble, biliousness, sick headache, indigestion and constipation. Not an irritant but a corrective. Sold in 50c and $1 bottles at Hall's and Johnson's Drug Stores.

A COAT

Taken From a Room Over Stevenson's Livery Stable Gets Cooksey into Trouble—Police Court.

W. M. Cooksey, who is employed by A. Stevenson the liveryman, was arrested in Martin Burns' saloon on Thursday by Officer Zergiebel, charged with breaking into a room over the stable and stealing an overcoat.

Mr. Stevenson had bought the coat from a stranger, and Cooksey was to work out the price when he was to have the coat, but Stevenson says he did not pay for it, while Cooksey says he did.

Marshal W. J. Dennis of Mt. Vernon, came to Newark looking for a coat that was stolen from Arthur Ralston, of that city, while he was in Newark en route to Zanesville about a week ago. He immediately identified the coat said to have been stolen by Cooksey as belonging to Ralston, and the police are now looking for the man who sold the coat to Stevenson. Cooksey was sent back pending a further investigation.

Max McCann who was arrested for stealing a pair of $3 shoes from Joe Nelson, was given 10 days by the Mayor this morning.

Mag. Moakler was arrested by officer Woods for drunkenness.

SMALL POX.

(Communicated.)

Come, all ye good people of Newark, And listen with might and with main, A grave situation's before us, And needs our attention, 'tis plain. The smallpox, they say 's in the city— To believe what "they say," it is meet— Indeed, we can scarcely deny it. For we meet it, sometimes, on the street.

The order is, "Be vaccinated," Are you infant, or woman or man. If you don't, you must go the pest-house, And spread it as much as you can. Our Board is a vigilant body, And hunts down a "case" in a trice 'Twill expose you to smallpox for nothing.

If you haven't the full market price It keeps the saloons all wide open, But worship and teaching it stops. It thinks a good place for the pest-house

Is right in the heart of the "shops." Now, for safety, let's ask our good Health Board I have not a doubt they'll agree— To send all the well to the pest-house While the doctor and patients go free.

JEROME JUNIOR PROPHECIES

"Chinky" Says Papa Is Going to Surprise Folks Pretty Soon.

"No, I'd never like to see papa president of the United States. I don't know that I'd like to see him even governor, because then he would not have any time to spend with mamma and me, and he'd be always working and never get any rest."

Thus did William Travers Jerome, Jr., set a limitation on his father's political career, according to a Lakeville (Conn.) dispatch to the New York Evening Journal.

"Chinky," as the son of the district attorney elect of New York is dubbed, is eleven years old, but he is politically wise beyond his years. Constant association with the men who always surround his father has brightened the little chap wondrously, and his likes and dislikes for the candidates in the late campaign are pronounced.

"I like papa most, because he is my papa," he declared, "and next because he is an honest man. He didn't need to be in this election, but I'm glad he ran, now that he has been elected, because he will show the people what he is made of."

"Oh, he's going to surprise everybody before he gets through!"

"Yes, I like Low and Shepard both. I like Low principally because he is educated and believes in education. Not enough attention is paid to education in our country, and that is the cause of most crime."

"You can just bet Mr. Low will build plenty of schools and run them in good shape."

"Chinky" is an athletic lad, and while his father is in the country he drags him off to play golf every day. He can handle a horse, ride a wheel or pull an oar. Withal he is very studious.

AN ALIBI WAS CONSIDINE'S PLEA

CONVICTED OF ROBBING POST OFFICE AT GRANVILLE

The Government Seeks to Enforce the Sentence of Five Years For The Burglary.

The case of James Considine, the theatrical manager sentenced to five years in the penitentiary for postoffice robbery at Granville, O., came up for final disposition in the U. S. Court of Appeals on Thursday at Cincinnati. Considine is almost as prominent as his two brothers in the sporting world. He attempted to prove an alibi at his trial, some detectives appearing in his behalf, but the evidence of hotel and street car attaches was overwhelming. He had been released on bond after his first arrest and disappeared. On his return from the Carson City fight he was mixed up in a diamond robbery at Kansas City, and got three years in the Jefferson City (Mo.) penitentiary. The Government secured custody of him again on his release. Judge Thompson scored some of the evidence when he gave him a five-year sentence. Considine asked for a suspended sentence and made great promises, but in view of his record the court had to refuse. Briefs were submitted as well as oral arguments made by Col. Thos. M. Shay for the defense and District Attorney W. E. Bundy and Assistant District Attorney S. T. McPherson for the Government.

This is Correct.

The smallpox at Newark has been greatly exaggerated, in reports from that city, which has militated in no small degree against the merchants there. There is, practically, no danger of contracting the disease there now, as the few cases have been isolated and precautionary measures taken to prevent further spread. Those who contemplate doing their regular trading at Newark need not be afraid to do so, as all danger of infection is over.—Pataskala Standard.

NOVEL TRANSLAKE TRIP.

Captain Mayo to Make the Voyage Alone in a Lifeboat.

Captain R. D. Mayo of Muskegon, Mich., will make a perilous voyage in his strange life saving device from Chicago to Muskegon the latter part of November in order to demonstrate practically the merits of the boat, says the New York Times. The craft with which he will make the trip will be 39 feet in length and 6 feet in diameter and is the one which has been shown in the exhibition of boats at Havre, France, this summer.

The captain expects to make the translake journey in two days providing he has favorable weather. He will take with him an oil stove to keep warm and will be amply provided with provisions in case he is delayed by storms. He will make the trip alone. The Mayo life device is cone shaped and is a boat within a boat. The inside boat is on pivots, which enable it and its occupants to remain right side up no matter how much the life craft is tossed about by the elements. The boat acts on the principle of a log in the sea, rolling lengthwise with the waves, while inside the occupants are sheltered from the storm.

There are devices for preventing any water from entering the outside shell while air circulates freely. The boat can be propelled either by sails or oars.

Pensions For Bank Employees.

Plans providing for a pension fund for aged employees of the Fourth Street National bank in Philadelphia were favorably passed upon at a meeting of the board of directors of that institution the other day, says the New York Times. Hereafter when one of the employees is considered too old for work he will be put on the pension list, no matter what his age. The fund will be entirely gratuitous, a certain sum being laid aside by the bank each year to provide all expenditures in pensions. Resolutions calling for a death benefit for the families of employees were also favorably passed upon.

Higher Hotel Rates For Coronation.

While a raid upon west end flats and houses is being made in view of the coronation and already fancy prices are the rule, the hotels have so far not taken next summer's great celebration into their consideration, says the London Mail. Except in a few isolated cases there have been no applications for rooms for next June, and consequently the special tariffs, which will, of course, be advanced on the normal have not yet been drawn up.

Yankee Invasion of Egypt.

A raw incident in the American invasion is reported from Egypt. An American engineer, according to the London Mail, has just completed a new system of suspended bridge tramways for unloading coal from steamers in Alexandria. The present apparatus is the first that has been installed in Africa, but the Egyptian railway administration has decided to adopt the system, which will undoubtedly meet with further success. The work is done automatically and only occupies one-fourth of the time necessitated by manual labor and steam winches. Twenty-one hundred and twenty tons of coal in ten hours is the unloading capacity of these hoisters, two or three ships can be worked at a time, and there is a great diminution of waste and "small." The saving of labor is also one of the great advantages of this system.

A Popular Bird.

Now the proclamation is issued And the day of thanks is named, There is much attention centered On a bird that's widely famed-- Not the scragging, screeching eagle, Nor the hen of patient work, Not the fowl that swarms and waddles, But the plump and tender turk.

Other birds have won distinction, Each in its peculiar sphere, And to each has been accorded Praise at some time of the year; But when thoughts are by Thanksgiving And its meaning deeply stirred 'Tis the turkey that's regarded As the only famous bird.

Oh! the feast is seen in fancy Long before Thanksgiving day, With the goodies on the table All spread out in bright array-- Pie and cake and fruit and candy, And the cranberries in molds, But the brown and steaming turkey The imagination holds.

Many times the mouth will water With the premature delight Of assimilating portions Of the dark meat or the white. Oft the chap who does the carving When Thanksgiving day arrives Will be dreaming that he's slicing Forty turks with forty knives.

Though the eagle's famed for screeching, Though the hen deserves much praise, Though some other birds are noted For a lot of winning ways, When Thanksgiving day is coming And is getting near at hand, Thoughts are centered on the turkey All through this mighty land. --Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.
